

MEMBER BENEFITS

For those looking for their professional home within psychology, Division 44 provides a culture of support for its members. In addition, the following benefits are just a sample of why our loyal members love belonging:

Flagship Journal

The Journal Psychology of Sexual Orientation & Gender Diversity is a scholarly journal dedicated to the dissemination of information in the field of sexual orientation and gender diversity.

The journal is a primary outlet for research, particularly as it impacts practice, education, public policy and social action. It is a forum for scholarly dialogue that explores the multifaceted aspects of gender and sexual orientation.

Division 44 Newsletter

Produced 3 times per year--and open for submissions relevant to LGBTQ psychology

Interactive discussion listserves

Full of dialogue, current events, and education

Awards/Grants/Scholarships

Funding for personal/professional development and research to advance the field of LGBTQ psychology

Events and Networking

Whether the APA Convention, the National Multicultural Summit, or another division activity, our members love to meet their peers and discuss personal and professional issues

Leadership Opportunities

From division committees, to elected positions, to representing the division in APA governance, there are many opportunities to be a leader in LGBTQ psychology

WELCOME TO DIVISION 44!

Division 44 is a place where you'll find personal and professional support for issues that concern lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and queer individuals (LGBTQ) and their allies.

This is an important time to be a part of the society. By joining the society today, you will be a part of a group working to advance the level of psychology research and education related to LGBTQ issues. In addition, you'll receive the following member benefits:

- Print and online access to Psychology of Sexual Orientation and Gender Diversity
- Division Newsletter (published 3x per year)
- Discounts on books from the Division 44/ APA Book Series
- Access to member listserv
- Networking opportunities with those interested in LGBTQ psychology

More information about the Society is available on our web site at www.apadivisions.org/division-44. Feel free to peruse our many LGBTQ psychology resources or contact one of us directly if there is something in particular you are looking for.

If you are a student, someone who works with students, or someone interested in shaping future psychologists, you are particularly important to Division 44! Our division is vital in shaping the future of our field and ensuring that LGBTQ issues stay at the forefront of psychology training and development. We are very interested in working with you to provide you with the information, support, and guidance you need to pursue your career goals and contribute to the field.

Again, thank you for your interest in Division 44, and we look forward to having you as a member of the Society.

Best,

Franco Dispenza, PhD, Membership Co-Chair

FUN!

Division 44, founded in 1985 by a group of pioneering psychologists and their allies, is psychology's focal point for research, practice, training, and education on the lives of LGBTQ people. With over 1,000 members, Division 44 has members in all 50 states and the District of Columbia, and is represented internationally in many other countries.

Division 44 is committed to continuing to develop a diverse culture within the Division including race and ethnicity. Division 44 is also committed to developing international contacts and expanding the scope of the Division's work worldwide.

Through its various committees, task forces, events, and awards and honors, Division 44 enlarges the scope of psychology's understanding of the needs of sexual and gender identity minority individuals and communities. Division 44 also works with other APA groups to advance LGBTQ affirmative science, practice, and public policy.

The Division has Committees on bisexuality; gender diversity; ethnic and racial issues; children, youth and families; aging issues; education and training; public policy, and science. Division 44 publishes a Newsletter three times a year and maintains a networking Listserv for all its members, as well as a Student Listserv for student members. The Division offers online and face-to-face educational programs that carry CEUs and offers multiple Awards for research and distinguished contributions to LGBTQ psychology, including Student Awards.
